What is BioGeometry®?

BioGeometry® is a patented, practical science based on decades of research and investigation in various areas of life such as architecture, design, industry, agriculture and health. The goal of BioGeometry® is to develop practical solutions to everyday problems through a Science of Quality – a true transformation of the energetic quality of life.

Bio –life + Metric –measuring + Geometry –measuring of the earth.
= BioGeometry –measuring of the life force energy of the earth, including all of its living systems.

The Energy Quality of the Information Exchange between living systems, for example people, plants, animals, buildings and more, can be harmonised on a subtle level both in the inner and outer environment with the help of the BioGeometry natural design language of form, colour and vibration. Through the multi-dimensional harmonisation and optimisation of the environment with the help of the biogeometric techniques and tools (aids), Resonance with the spiritual and the heart level can be restored and healing can be addressed on all levels through the changed environmental quality.

As a result of decades of research, BioGeometry® combines the knowledge of the once secret temple sciences of ancient Egypt with the research work of the 20th century radiesthesia on form-based waves and energy qualities. Coupled with the findings of modern science, a holistic-integrative world view and the discoveries of the founder Dr. Ibrahim Karim, BioGeometry® emerged as a practically applicable discipline based on the Physics of Quality.

Who is the BioGeometry® Training aimed at?

BioGeometry® appeals to all people who are interested in the energy of harmony and the true basic nature & comprehensive quality of life as well as actively balancing the environment. The techniques of BioGeometry® are easy to learn and to implement and could have profound effects especially in harmonising and balancing electromagnetic radiation, geopathic stress, vertical wave components and relationships of all kinds.

Course participants come to the training for professional, personal development and also for spiritual reasons ..... architecture, interior design, design, art, landscape design, agriculture, FengShui, conventional medicine, integrative medicine, geomancy, interested lay people, etc. – the training is open to all who are interested in their personal development and are willing to understand the invisible aspects of life, in order to add a special quality through BG3 into one's life.

What is "BioGeometry Three" (BG3)?

Dr. Karim's observations and investigations have revealed that a very specific spiritual energy quality is inherently present at all sacred power places around the world, regardless of culture, place or religion. Based on his radiesthetic measurements, Dr Karim has named this quality "BG3" because it is composed of three energetic colour qualities: Higher Harmonics of Gold (HHG), Higher Harmonics of Ultraviolet (HHUV) and Horizontal Negative Green (HNG).

Areas of application of BioGeometry®

"BG3" is the central and centring energy quality that is at the forefront of all BioGeometry® applications. It supports balance and harmony in our everyday life, starting from the physical to the vital-emotional and mental to the spiritual level. BioGeometry® neither represents nor replaces medical diagnosis or treatment.

It can be seen as a long-term environmental support for the energy systems of the body and for all kinds of treatments and activities of life. The applications of BioGeometry® are many: personal growth, health, wellbeing, spirituality, architecture, design, agriculture, mystical studies and all kinds of areas of life and work, to name a few.

BioGeometry® is particularly frequently used in the harmonisation of the modern environment with its electromagnetic radiation and so-called vertical waves in various types. The results of decades of research into practicable BioGeometry® techniques and tools have led to demonstrably effective solutions for the noticeably increasing stresses caused by our modern environment. These can have a verifiable and measurable impact on our lives and well-being at all levels.

What does BioGeometry® involve?

Human beings can be described as dynamic, living energy systems that live in a sea of waves, the earth. There is the physical, visible and quantifiable level and the non-physical levels, which are also called subtle levels. Based on the Law of Harmonics, the waves mentioned are in continuous interaction, or: resonance and exchange, with us and all that is, not only on the quantitative but also on the qualitative level.

With the help of BioGeometry®, the aim is to harmonise and connect all energetic effects back to their healing centre, so that everything that is contains the spiritual energy quality of BG3. BioGeometric applications mirror the design found in nature and use the subtle effects of the wave qualities of geometric shapes, colours or angles to restore the natural balance on all levels of consciousness through this reconnection to the centre. This can provide a powerful, interactive means of anchoring harmony in all living systems including buildings, spaces and places in nature, which could accompany you throughout your life.

What does the BioGeometry® Foundation Training (Level 1, 2, 3) include?

This three-level BioGeometry® Training is taught in person over six course days. It consists of theoretical and practical units. At the same time, it involves much more than just imparting information. It can be seen as a process of in-FORM-ation. Something is allowed to reshape itself with the help of the BioGeometric worldview. The interaction of the ALCHEMY of FORM and the environment can be made visible and recognised. The energy quality of harmony is integrated into everyday life in a practical and simple, multi-faceted way.

The three levels of training go hand in hand; the contents build on each other throughout the course. A brief overview:

Level 1 – Introduction to BioGeometry

Teaching the basics to enable working with BioGeometry and to understand the interaction of the subtle energy qualities surrounding us, also in the field of healing and spiritual techniques.

Level 2 – Introduction to Measuring (Physical Radiesthesia) and Balancing Energy

Using the techniques of Physical Radiesthesia to measure energy qualities in order to balance these using the principles and techniques of BioGeometry® in everyday life.

Level 3 – Introduction to Biosignatures and Principles of Design.

Practical application of BioGeometry® energy forms and biogeometric design
